- All contractors working in the school premises must be DBS checked unless students are not present during the duration of the work being carried out.
- London House School of English reserves the right to use its discretion to except the re-use (from a current employer, portability) of Enhanced DBS disclosures on an individual's basis in conjunction with other evidence presented e.g. letter from a current employer. This is applicable where the applicant is a teacher, nurse, police officer, health worker and has a valid DBS check.

Suitability of staff

London House School of English will ensure the suitability of its teachers, management and social assistant staff by:

- Interviewing all staff who must provide at least two references. Social Assistants who still attend school are required to provide one reference from their school. Referees will be contacted to establish if there is any reason why the applicant should not have the responsibility for the care of, or access to, children or vulnerable adults.
- London House School of English will not employ persons identified as being on the DBS barred list
- London House will ensure that a DBS disclosure for all relevant staff takes place. It is made clear in both the application and interview process, that they will be working with under-18s and/or vulnerable adults and the offer of employment is exempt from the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974.
- Ensuring that the appointment is not confirmed until the school is confident that the applicant can be entrusted to work under-18s or vulnerable adults.
- Maintaining up to date DBS checks for all relevant members of staff.
- Training staff and providing relevant information in hand outs and inductions

Suitability of homestay providers
